NARBERTH CLUB AIDS HOSPITAL PROJECT

Gives $130 Toward Furnishing Sunroom at Valley Forge

SCOUTS' CAMPOREE IS THIS WEEK-END

Annual Project Was Rained Out Last Week

Postponed from last week-end because of inclement weather, the annual Camporee of the Main Line Boy Scouts will be held Saturday and Sunday on the grounds of Haverford College.

Hert Curtie, assistant district commissioner, has announced that the original program will be followed through. Troops will start assembling on the grounds at 1 P. M., Saturday, and it is expected that the entire encampment will be ready for the visits by parents by 3 P. M.

Red Arrow President Explains Bus Service

May 25, 1943. "Due to the critical shortage of gasoline, bus and truck operators in the Philadelphia area were directed, through the public press, to cut their vehicle mileage 40 per cent, effective 12:01 A. M., May 24, 1943.

"We carefully checked with Office of Defense Transportation in Washington and the Public Utility Commission in Harrisburg and were advised that the situation required immediate action. It was the endeavor of Red Arrow Lines to reduce bus miles where it would cause the least inconvenience and hardship to our patrons. Red Arrow Lines complied with these instructions on time because we felt that it was better to make an immediate cut rather than waiting and having to make a more severe cut later, due to the fact that we had expended excess gasoline during the period in which the saving would have to be made.

"As soon as the gasoline situation becomes less critical, service will be restored to the extent permitted by the Government authorities.

"The recreation of our patrons in general has been one of complete co-operation and sympathetic understanding of the serious problem which confronted us on such short notice.

"M. H. TAYLOR, President."

AUCTION YIELDS $70,000 IN BONDS

Wounded Marine Tells of Guadalcanal Adventures

Approximately $70,000 was raised in War Bonds and Stamps at the Bond Auction held last Friday and Saturday at 19 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, under the auspices of the Emergency Aid and the Ardmore War Stamp Exchange.

The sponsoring groups have taken an additional lease on the premises, and articles which remained, including many of real intrinsic worth and value, will be sold from the floor during the next week.

The auction, attended by more than 500 persons during the afternoon and evening sessions, also marked the conclusion of the Emergency Aid's campaign to sell bonds and stamps equal to the cost of a bomber. The bonds sold at the auction directly and for articles put the campaign across and will result in one of the big planes being christened "Main Line."

YOUR RATION CALENDAR

GASOLINE—"A" book coupons No. 6, good for four gallons each, became valid May 22 outside the eastern gasoline shortage area. Within the East coast shortage area, "A" book coupons No. 1, good for three gallons each, must last through July 21.

SUGAR—Coupon No. 12, good for 5 lbs. Must last through May 31. Coupon No. 13 becomes valid June 1, and will be good for 5 lbs. through August 15. Coupons No. 15 and 16 became good May 24 for 5 lbs. each for home canning purposes. Housewives may apply to their local boards for additional rations if necessary.

COFFEE—Stamp No. 23 (1 lb.) good through May 30.

FUEL OIL.—Period 5 coupons valid in all zones until September 30.

SHOES—No. 17 stamp in War Ration Book One good for one pair through June 15. Stamp No. 18 (1 pr.) will become effective June 16.

MESAT, ETC.—Red stamps E, F, G, H, J remain valid through May.

PROCESSED FOODS—Blue stamps G, H, J remain valid through June 7. K, L, M became valid May 24.

DESTROY EXPIRED RATION STAMPS

Housewives are urged to destroy all expired red or blue ration stamps to help guard against black markets in food. Reports to OPA indicate that many storekeepers have asked their customers for expired stamps, and in turn used them to buy more food from wholesalers. Because foods bought at wholesale with these stamps can be sold at retail without points, every expired stamp given to a storekeeper is a potential contribution to an illegal market.

CANNING SUGAR

Sugar for home canning can be obtained by using stamps 15 and 16 in War Ration Book One, instead of "sugar allowance coupons" as previously announced. Each stamp is worth five pounds. Consumers who require more than ten pounds per person for canning will apply to their local ration boards for an additional allowance.

RATION BOOK 3

Applications for War Ration Book No. 3, which will provide stamps to replace those now running out in existing books, are now being distributed by letter carriers. Each application is good for a single individual or an entire family. Consumers will fill out and return application cards to OPA mail centers between June 1 and June 10. OPA centers will mail books to applicants.

ICE CREAM

Retailers cannot force their customers to buy an equal amount of sherbert or any other frozen confection to obtain bulk or packaged ice cream. OPA and WPA have emphasized. This requirement is a violation of the prohibition against tie-in sales under the general maximum price regulation.

USED INNER TUBES

Used inner tubes for passenger car or truck tires can now be purchased without a ration certificate. It is estimated that there are about 765,000 used passenger car tubes and 225,000 used truck tubes now idle in dealers' stocks. All rationing regulations have been removed on used tubes to help conserve the supply of new ones.

FURLOUGH ON INDUCTION

The War Department has authorized extension from seven days to fourteen days of the furlough period between the day of induction and the date men must report for duty. This change will be made in all commands not later than July 1. After July 1, but before September 1, the period will be increased from fourteen days to twenty-one days.

STOVES TO BE RATIONED

Heating and cooking stoves using coal, wood, oil or gas as fuel be placed under rationing regulations late in June. After that time a purchase certificate from a local ration board must be presented before a stove may be purchased. Certificates will be issued on the basis of need.

POULTRY PRICE VIOLATIONS

More poultry violators are facing OPA enforcement proceedings. Between April 15 and May 15 court actions were started against another 113. Injunctions to restrain sellers from over-charging were asked in 84 cases. The remainder were criminal actions.

SCOUTING FOR SCRAP

More than a million boy scouts and cub scouts will tramp the woods and valleys of America this summer on a new kind of scouting expedition. They will be exploring for heavy scrap iron that can later be brought in to collection points. Overnight camps will permit the boys to cover a wider territory and to carry some lights scrap back to collection trucks.

EXCEEDING SPEED LIMIT

Recent checks in 11 states showed average speeds as high as 47 miles an hour. The Public Roads Administration has announced. Speeds approximated the 35-mile limit only in Maine, Minnesota, North Carolina, and Oklahoma, except that in Minnesota the average speed of buses was 45 miles per hour. Earlier this year, speed counts showed national averages of 37 miles an hour for passenger cars, 35 for trucks, and 37 for busses. The present national average cannot be accurately determined until additional reports are received.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Because the hazards of carbon monoxide poisoning have increased greatly with the shortages of certain fuels, the U. S. Bureau of Mines has published a circular describing home protective measures to minimize dangers from this gas and methods of treating persons affected by it. A colorless, odorless, and tasteless gas, carbon monoxide is deadly when inhaled with an insufficient supply of oxygen.

CANNING COURSES
TO START IN JUNEUse of Pressure
Cookers May Be Made Available to All

On June 8 at 1:30 P. M., the first course of instruction in home canning will get under way at the Lower Merion High School. The course will consist of three lessons on three consecutive days by Miss Violet Zimmermann, instructor in School. Persons taking this course will have previously registered for it with Mrs. L. Caspar Wister, chairman of the committee on canning of the Victory Garden Committee, Township Building, Ardmore, Pa.

Additional three-day courses on canning will be given at the High School on later dates by Miss Zimmermann and by Miss Mamie T. Kirk, instructor of home economics in the Junior High School. Persons wishing to enroll in one of these courses must register in advance with the Victory Garden Committee.

On Tuesdays and Wednesdays during July and August, the kitchen of the Junior High School will be used to can vegetables which persons may care to donate for use in some work of charity to be approved by the Council of Defense. The canning will be done by volunteer workers and any persons with a surplus of vegetables from their gardens are urged to deliver them to the Junior High School for this worthy purpose.

Mrs. Wister has arranged for another project which should have wide appeal to the housewives in the Township. As is well known, home canning can best be done when a pressure cooker is used but new pressure cookers are relatively unobtainable this year. To meet this situation, plans have been made whereby women may take their own vegetables to a canning center, do their canning with the proper equipment under expert supervision, leaving a small percentage of their pack to be donated for charitable purposes.

Rev. Bowers Makes
Farewell Speech

The Reverend Louis Bowers, returned missionary from Liberia, Africa, made his farewell address in Trinity Lutheran Church, Manoa, Sunday evening. Rev. Bowers, a son of Trinity Lutheran Church, plans to return to the mission field in Africa early next month.

The congregation presented Rev. Bowers with a small gold cross and gave Mrs. Bowers a corsage of red rose buds. Following the presentation by the pastor, the Rev. Frederick L. Fritsch, the audience sang "Hail Be the Tie That Binds," while the couple were standing at the altar.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

Maggio, now in the navy, is one of the best center fielders he has ever seen, but his all-time tops in outfielders reads: Lewis, Hooper and Speaker. During 1942, 116 major league double headers resulted in standoffs and 123 others produced double wins for one of the contesting teams.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

A few years ago a young business man had a bright idea for selling outboard motors. He had a job representing an outboard motor company and he had to make sales or lose his representation.

He and his wife sat up nights answering the letters of inquiry that came in; but sales walked with leaden shoes. Then, one day, the bright idea! It was to illustrate the outboard motor in actual operation to the people who made inquiries. Fine! Perfect!

His name was Oluf Mikkelsen, born in Denmark.

Mikkelsen and his wife advised the people who inquired to come the following Saturday afternoon to a New York address, and walk down to the Hudson River and see the outboard motor in operation.

Young Mikkelsen arrived ahead of time with a boat, hired for the purpose. He soon had the outboard motor attached and everything in order. Now for the big demonstration. He counted the people—thirty had come. Wonderful!

But something else had come that Saturday afternoon. Trouble!

Something was the matter with the motor. Mikkelsen spun it. It coughed and died down. He spun it again. Cough-cough! He worked for half an hour. Then he explained to the people there was a little hitch, but soon the motor would be running merrily. It didn't run at all!

Three o'clock. Four o'clock. He was ashamed to look at the spectators. Some had already left. He worked furiously. Sputter-cough.

At last, about 5 o'clock there was a different sound. The motor was purring as gently as a kitten in front of a fireplace.

Finally, he saw a man on a yacht watching him. He put on fancy turns and spins for this man. The man waved and Mikkelsen dashed over to him, when he left the yacht and went aboard the little boat.

He said, "Have you a life preserver aboard your boat?" "No," said Mikkelsen. Strange question. Then the man asked if he had any lights, or a fire extinguisher. Mikkelsen again answered no.

"In from the custom's office. You are under arrest."

Mikkelsen was up against it. He was in the wrong, though he had not meant to do anything unlawful. Instead of trying to argue with the man, he admitted he was wrong then, asked for advice. The agent listened, and felt sorry for the young fellow; also he was a bit flattered to be asked advice. At last the man became sympathetic. There was some red tape that must be attended to, but finally a way was worked out which would enable the agent to do his duty without arresting Mikkelsen. The boy had turned an unsympathetic man into a sympathetic one by appealing to him instead of trying to out-argue him.

This was the turning point in Mikkelsen's career. Today he is the biggest distributor of outboard motors in the world. He says that this incident taught him a lesson. He never tries to out-argue anyone.

By Order of Office of Defense Transportation

TO FURTHER CONSERVE GASOLINE

We are forced to curtail bus service as follows:

Effective Midnight May 23, 1943

By order of the Office of Defense Transportation, we are eliminating certain bus runs as shown in the box here published, until further notice.

This action is being taken simultaneously with other bus services in other sections of the country. For the Red Arrow Lines alone it will mean an immediate reduction of 165,000 miles per month. The aggregate mileage saved by all bus lines will reach an impressive total... a vital help in rubber and gasoline conservation.

We know our patrons will bear with us in accepting this move as another important way in which we can all help in the war effort.

NURSES TO HAVE MASS 'CAPPING'

37 Schools to Send Girls to Ceremony at Independence Hall

Bryn Mawr and Montgomery Hospitals will send representatives to an impressive and colorful nurses' capping ceremony which will take place in front of historic Independence Hall tomorrow at 3:00 P. M. as a part of the drive for greater student nurse enrollment now being carried on in Philadelphia and five surrounding counties.

Clad in trim, starched uniform, complete with cape and bib, more than 300 young nurses, representing the 37 schools of nursing in the Philadelphia metropolitan area will march out of Independence Hall shortly before 3 o'clock to the music of the Philadelphia Navy Band. They will be escorted to their places on two special stands by the color guard of the Philadelphia Public Schools.

The mass capping ceremony of solemn significance to young women to whom it means formal acceptance as student nurses, will be reviewed by leaders in local and national nursing circles, including representatives of the Army and the Navy, the American Red Cross, the Visiting Nurse Society, the American Legion nurses post, nursing education groups, public health nursing, the United War Chest, the Philadelphia and other groups.

Dr. Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, will preside at the ceremony and will introduce the first speaker, Mrs. Chester Bolton, representative in Congress from Cleveland, O., and author of a bill now in the House to provide financial assistance to student nurses during their training period.

Mayor Bernard Samuel will speak for the city of Philadelphia, stressing the importance of nursing to the health of the civilian population and urging young women of Philadelphia to participate in this phase of the war effort.

Immediately after the speaking is concluded, the boys' choir of St. Peter's Episcopal Church will sing and the significance of the capping ceremony will be explained to the audience. Then, the nurses will arise in a body. Simultaneously, half of them will be capped, each pre-clinic nurse receiving her cap from a capped older student nurse seated beside her.

Together, they will repeat the famous Florence Nightingale pledge, written in honor of the founder of modern nursing.

Spectators are expected to jam the seats surrounding the speakers' platform and stands and will include several hundred students from Philadelphia high schools who will be excused from school in time to attend the ceremony. Also in the audience will be the

Poppy Posters Shown at Meeting

American Legion Auxiliary Num-an-Slook Unit 338 of Oakmont displayed the Poppy Posters made by students of Haverford Township Schools at the meeting held in the Bug-Out, last Thursday evening. The judges, Mrs. James Weaver, Manoa, Fred Lorenzo, of South Ardmore, and Wilmar S. Richter will announce the winners at a later date.

Allen Center, commander of Num-an-Slook Post outlined Memorial Day plans stating "This year of war we will do away with spectacular ideas and the motif will be simplicity and reverence." He invited the members to participate in the parade which will be held Sunday, May 30th, due to the war plants working on Monday.

Mrs. George Hall gave reports on Poppy sales, which are about completed and rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. H. D. Woodwell, told of taking 400 magazines and other articles to Conestoga Veterans' Hospital during the week.

An appeal was made by Mrs. Irwin Hagg, Red Cross chairman, for more workers to attend the Surgical Dressing Unit which meets in the Bug-Out, Ralston and Grass-lyn Ave., Oakmont, every Tuesday from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Mrs. John Miller announced that a new miscellaneous club was being formed, and Mrs. David Beattie, who presided, stated that the Unit was sponsoring a card party at the Naval Hospital Annex in Swarthmore this evening.

Mrs. George Hall and Mrs. Irwin Hagg were appointed delegates to the Delaware County Council meeting to be held in Glenolden, June 9.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the local unit will take place June 3.

Church to Dedicate Windows and Cross

Fifteen memorial windows will be dedicated at Faith Chapel, Bishop Ave. and Darby Creek, on Sunday, May 30, at 11 A. M. The pastor will speak on the subject, "Windows of Heaven." The windows are the work of Edward Hildebrand, Upper Darby artist, in oil paints with designs simulating stained glass windows.

The windows are being presented by members and friends of Faith Chapel in memory of departed loved ones. Mr. Hildebrand will also be guest organist at the morning service.

The evening service, at 8 P. M., will be conducted by the Grace Chapel Male Quartet. Mr. Ralph Warner will have charge. A nautical fluorescent cross, presented by the Sunday school, will be dedicated at the evening service.

families and friends of the young nurses.

The capping ceremony is being held under the joint sponsorship of Nursing Council for War Service of Metropolitan Philadelphia and the Blue Cross Hospital Plan.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"THESE are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands it now deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered."

HOWARD FAST

So wrote Thomas Paine during the dark days of the Revolutionary War, words as true today as when they were conceived. Thomas Paine was a poor corsetmaker in England, who came to America to seek a better way of life. His pamphlet, "Common Sense," was a leading weapon in crystallizing the sentiment of the American workers and farmers and bringing about the Revolutionary War.

An excellent novel about this great American, and a timely book to read now is "Citizen Tom Paine" by Howard Fast. Howard Fast is a young man, still in his thirties. He is the author of "The Last Frontier" about the Cheyenne Indians, and "The Unvanquished," the novelized life of George Washington. Now with "Citizen Tom Paine" he easily ranks as one of America's leading historical novelists. At present, he is working for the Office of War Information.

Now that our dogs have gone to war, a good collection of dog stories is bound to strike a sympathetic chord in many a heart. Anyone who has ever had a dog of his own, or ever dreamed of having one some day, will cherish "The Fireside Book of Dog Stories" edited by Jack Goodman, a Book-of-the-Month Club book-dividend for May and June.

Among the most famous dog stories in this volume are "Bashan" from "A Man and His Dog" by Thomas Mann; "For the Love of a Man" from Jack London's "Call of the Wild"; "Verdun Belle" by Alexander Woolcott; "The Voice of Bugle Ann" by MacKinlay Kantor; and "Lassie Come-Home" by Eric Knight.

The introduction is written by James Thurber. "It did not take long—probably not more than a hundred centuries," Mr. Thurber says, "to discover that all the animals except the dog were impossible around the house. One has but to spend a few days with an aardvark or a llama, command a water buffalo to sit up and beg, to perceive how wisely Man set about his process of elimination and selection."

"This book," Mr. Thurber concludes, "contains much of Man's report on his dog, his tribute to it, his effort to understand the open-hearted and inscrutable, the simple and complicated animal. It is unfortunate that there can be no companion piece, set down by the dog, to complete the picture. He has not yet learned to communicate his thoughts to paper. But give him time. The planet has, after all, barely cooled off."

JUNK JALOPIES FOR VICTORY

Gov. Martin Urges Public to Help Drive on Old Cars

Governor Edward Martin today urged Pennsylvanians who own worn-out automobiles, no longer useful for transportation purposes, to send them to the auto graveyards during the month of June.

A junk-the-jalopies campaign is to be conducted in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, under the direction of the regional and district offices of the War Production Board, in an effort to obtain additional iron and steel scrap to keep the steel mills operating at capacity throughout the summer months.

Pennsylvania, which leads all other states in the production of war materials, must continue its aggressive salvage efforts," said Governor Martin. "There is a need for additional iron and steel scrap to keep our war plants in operation, and, as we go about the state, we see many abandoned cars, which have outlived their usefulness."

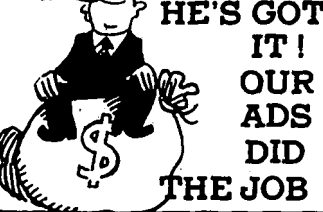

"Every old car that is not being used for transportation should be sold to the auto graveyards during the month of June. These junked cars are dismantled in the graveyards, the motors broken up and the bodies compressed into steel bales for use in the open hearth furnaces of the steel mills.

The iron and steel in every worn-out car is needed today for the manufacture of bombs, torpedoes, guns, tanks and other implements of war that our fighting men must have. I urge our citizens to get all these jalopies into the war during the next month.

Chairman Roberts, in an appeal to the Salvage Committees of the Councils of Defense to cooperate with the War Production Board, said:

"Before the war, it took approximately 150 days for the average junked car to be processed into scrap metal. At the present time a jalopy is turned into scrap in less than 40 days on a national overall average, though the War Production Board has asked for 60 days. Early last year there were estimated to be 1,500,000 jalopies in the graveyards. By the end of last November, there were less than 275,000. In the meantime, almost 3,000,000 other jalopies have gone through the graveyards and have been turned into scrap."

LICENSES FROZEN FOR ARMED FORCES

New Bill Permits Servicemen to Drive Without Renewal

For the duration of the war, persons serving in the armed forces of the United States need not renew their motor vehicle operator's license, Frank E. Ballantyne, General Manager of the Automobile Club of Philadelphia-AAA has announced.

This "freezing" of the driving privileges of men and women in the service is one of the results of the enactment of a bill sponsored by the AAA clubs and 177,000 motorists members in Pennsylvania, Mr. Ballantyne said. "In addition, the law signed by Governor Edward Martin earlier this month establishes a simplified procedure by which service men and women can obtain post-war driving cards without taking another examination or paying an additional learner's permit fee."

"Introduced by Reps. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., of Montgomery Co., and Edwin Ewing, of Allegheny Co., the new law automatically extends for the duration of the war the operator's license of service men and women who held a valid Pennsylvania license during the year, or the year before the war, in which they entered the armed forces of the country. Subject only to the restriction that their pre-service license has not been revoked or suspended, it extends them the privilege of operating motor vehicles on Pennsylvania highways when in the State on leave or furlough, or for any other reason."

"The Brunner-Ewing law achieves the double purpose of permitting qualified service men and women to drive their cars when off duty in Pennsylvania and enabling them to obtain post-war license renewals without unnecessary expense or red tape. Simultaneously, it makes certain that these privileges are available only to persons physically and mentally capable of operating motor vehicles.

"The new law not only extends for the duration of the war the validity of current (1942-43) or 1942-43 licenses but revives and extends licenses issued in prior years to persons who entered the armed forces earlier in the war or during the pre-Pearl Harbor period of national defense. This result is effected by the provision validating and extending the license issued to any person in the armed forces for the license year in which he or she entered such service or for the license year immediately preceding his or her entrance into such service, which license has not been revoked or suspended."

"After the war, or upon the honorable discharge of service men and women, they can renew their driving privileges by making a sworn application before a magistrate, alderman, or justice of the peace within 60 days after their discharge. In such cases, the law requires that the service man or woman shall have a certificate of honorable discharge and shall not be physically or mentally incapacitated at the time of application for renewal. If the certificate of honorable discharge reveals that injuries were sustained during service, the application must be ac-

Three-Game Schedule Opens Season For Main Line League

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the 39th season of the Main Line Baseball League. A three-game schedule on Sunday and a similar holiday layout on Monday will get the race underway.

Here's how they'll lineup for the opening week-end:

Sunday—West Phils at Manoa; Brookline at Narberth and Overbrook at Pen-Mar.

Monday—Overbrook at Manoa; West Phils at Narberth and Brookline at Pen-Mar.

The West Phils team is Cramps of the American Industrial League. Manager Ed Sullivan originally was granted a franchise under the name of Cramps, but when Reds Pearson, Industrial League, czar, objected to Cramps, participating in two leagues, Sullivan changed the name of his entry to the West Phils. He has piloted several teams under this name in the past.

The ban on pleasure driving is just another of the wartime handicaps the league faces this year, but none of the managers hesitated going through with the league as planned. Gene Davis, Narberth manager who will be starting his 28th season in the circuit, summed up the attitude of all league officials with this assertion:

"We may find the going tough, but there is so little recreation available these days that we believe we owe it to all those fans, who have supported us so loyally in the past, to keep the league going."

Despite the scarcity of players, Manoa and Narberth, who battled it out for the pennant last year, expect to have teams on a par with those of the past. "We'll have as strong a team as we've ever had," insists W. C. Wenmet, one-time Pacific Coast League star who is assisting Frank Matthews as manager of the Manoa club.

Gene Davis is equally confident. "On paper, at least, we appear strong enough to take the pennant he says."

Incidentally, Davis expects to turn over the actual running of the club on the field to his new assistant, none other than raucous-voiced Jimmy Keyes, the little round man who formerly was co-manager of the Gladwyn nine.

Here's how the teams shape up: Manoa—The defending champs are building their team around the following holdovers: Veteran pitchers Bob Allison and Walt Cantwell; Al Gwynn, catcher; Chet Zorcher, third baseman; and Jack Miller, first baseman. The latter will be available only until the latter part of June when he expects to be inducted into the Army. Bill Getz, president of the club, expects to don the mask and glove again after a year in retirement. Ted Westervelt, pitcher and infielder who starred with the club two years ago; Larry Pile, hard-hitting shortstop who played with Allentown in the Inter-State League last year; and Earl Spellman, of Berwyn, who has had some minor league experience, are among the newcomers. Bill Ash and Harry Robinson, first baseman and pitcher, respectively, on Haverford High's crack baseball team, have signed and will join the club just as soon as the school season ends.

Narberth—Buddy Walker, Russ and Al Herrman, Harold Tyson, Al Cotton and Lefty Tomlinson are back for another campaign. Bill O'Donnell, ace pitcher, and George Myers and Frank Arnone, classy keystone combination from Gladwyn, head the newcomers. Others include Lou Bonder, who caught for the Collegians last year; outfielders Bill Kaiser, of Norristown, and Joe Greely, who played with East Falls and Kensington in the Phila. League; Charles Spellman, former Paoli manager who will be used as pitcher and first baseman; and Al Becker and Bob Tabor, two promising youngsters from Narberth's American Legion team.

Brookline—Andy Hershock, the former Coatesville manager who is coaching the team for Manager Eddie Hare, says he has a group of youngsters who'll make every one step. "We'll be much better than last year," vows Hershock. The veteran Hare merely smiles at Hershock's enthusiasm and says: "I'm keeping my fingers crossed." Wait Azpell, veteran pitcher, Harry Curtis, Haverford College cleanup hitter; Metch Michaels, second baseman; George Dunn, catcher; and first baseman Al Kinderman are the only holdovers. Most of the new faces are Hershock's proteges from Kensington, most of them being ex-North Catholic High stars.

Pen-Mar—The veteran Johnny Burns, who pitched for the Collegians; and Vince Signorilli, who hurled for Gladwyn; and Joe Irvin, Jr., outfielder; and Joe Mahalic, who caught for Narberth last year, are the most familiar names in the lineup of this new entry. Jim Johns, who formerly caught for Lancaster in the Inter-State League; Johnny and Ed Nase, infielders from Seymour in the South Philly League; Outfielder Jack Evans, who formerly played in the league with the West Phils; Geo. Wardrop, first baseman from Bartman of the South Philly League; and Rip Collins, third baseman from the Jersey sandlots, are other first string players. "This club doesn't shape up as strong as my Collegians last year, but we'll make it interesting and should improve as the season progresses," says Manager Joe Irvin, Sr.

Overbrook—Playing manager-outfielder Al Mueller has six players remaining from last year's club. In addition to himself, there are Jim Smith, first base; Fred Brittingham, shortstop; outfielder Rudy Biboroch, John Praul, catcher; and Harry Robinson, pitcher. Buddy Lowmes, son of Magistrate Walter Lowmes and veteran second sacker on the Lower Merion High team; John Fman, of Cynwyd; John Casselbaum, who hails from Wilkes-Barre and who says he used to catch Tommy Hughes before he gained the majors; Carl Lenz, Germantown Church League product; and Bill Weeks, outfielder from Callowhill of the PTC League, are among the newcomers.

West Phils—A question mark as far as actual personnel is concerned, but it's the same club that represents Cramps in the American Industrial League. Gave Narberth its best workout in a recent practice game. Best bet for the league "dark horse" because Manager Ed Sullivan seldom is affiliated with weak clubs.

West Phils—A question mark as far as actual personnel is concerned, but it's the same club that represents Cramps in the American Industrial League. Gave Narberth its best workout in a recent practice game. Best bet for the league "dark horse" because Manager Ed Sullivan seldom is affiliated with weak clubs.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

For after dark, dimmed-out Eastern cities are selling a "lady's shillalah!" Made of polished hardwood with luminous top this smart swag-gar stick is weighted to give a hefty wallop.

Agriculture officials say no more food rationing is in sight. Fresh produce rationing would be too difficult, says OPA. So would poultry.

Lace curtains will be hard to buy. Looms formerly used to make them are now weaving mosquito netting for the armed forces.

Beware of shady clock dealers! They insert $1 works in costly cases and soak you plenty.

An eastern chain of butcher shops employs women meat handlers. Women "butchers" weigh, trim and sell the ready-prepared carcasses.

Preserve identity stub of your heating ration! It will be required when next winter's rations are issued.

Shoe polish, paste and liquid, now a best-seller at a dime in thousands of groceries. Women guard the family's precious shoes by giving them the oil of shinolite, which preserves and protects them.

Though you'll pay 10 cents more for No. 1 can of oysters, the contents will be increased 50 per cent.

Large incoming shipments hint at an ease in coffee rations, but tea may disappear from many stores.

Women will be able to buy better quality full-fashioned rayon hosiery soon, as a result of WPI's order restricting hosiery output.

"Everything's peaches down in Georgia" won't be true this year. Severe weather did much damage to fruit crops in 10 Southern states. In New York, too.

Dehydrated liver makes its appearance. Reduced to a fine brown powder, it keeps indefinitely and requires much less shipping space than fresh meat.

With margarine sales booming, the New York Academy of Medicine urges Washington that all brands be vitaminized, as in the case of the best vegetable margarine, and the public instructed that it is "nutritionally equal to butter."

WPI says 148,847 gas and electric refrigerators will be released for sale to the public this spring. Purchasers must sign a form, supplied by the retailer, declaring need and no other available refrigeration equipment.

Mink coats are getting scarce, dealers! Many small mink breeders are going out of business for the duration for lack of adequate animal feed.

According to opinion in Washington, milk most likely won't be rationed on a nationwide scale. Regionally it might be rationed before the end of the year.

Packed as a "cocktail powder," dehydrated carrot juice makes its bow on the food market.

Twenty-four million cans of corn, tomatoes and other vegetables will soon be released from Army stocks for civilian use. Surplus was accumulated through the use of dehydrated foods in shipments to troops overseas.

Officials say clothing won't be rationed any time soon. It takes four to six months to set up a rationing program, and there's enough wool and cotton goods to meet normal demands.

DIPHTHERIA PREVENTION CAMPAIGN

Is Your Child Safe From Diphtheria?
(If you have children read this article carefully)

Diphtheria prevention is safe. In millions of injections given to children, no permanent harm has come to a single child. Your child is usually not made uncomfortable to any degree by the treatment. The younger the child, the less likely is there to be any discomfort. You therefore need not worry when your child has been protected. There is no risk.

Remember it is the young child that most needs the protection. Most babies over six months of age can catch the disease. Most diphtheria deaths occur in the two-year-olds. Eighty percent of diphtheria deaths are in those under 5 years of age. So see your family doctor at once, or, if you feel that you cannot afford that small expense, take your child, if under school age, to the nearest Health Center of the Community Health and Civic Association.

This is the last announcement in the present Diphtheria Prevention Campaign. The response has been most gratifying and the Board of Health takes this opportunity to express its sincere thanks for the splendid cooperation of the citizens of the Community, the Press, the Motion Picture Theatres, and the Medical profession in this effort to wipe out this disease in our Township.

Remember that smallpox too is most dangerous for infants and young children. Vaccination will protect your child from this most horrible of diseases. Don't delay. Have your child vaccinated now before the hot weather comes.

To those of you who have not yet acted, a final reminder, a final plea: Are you being fair to your child?

COMMUNITY SHOP ACTIVITIES REPORTED

President Lists War Contributions of Women's Groups

If a single man, woman or child is helped by the community workshop—a project of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs—the entire community will have profited from the enterprise, in the opinion of Mrs. Richard Pollock, Glenside, president of the County Federation.

Mrs. Pollock, in summarizing the workshop's achievements, disclosed that two projects had already been established, at least four others were starting, while each of the 25 delegates to the workshop has organized a committee in her own community and is now engaged in teaching the group the techniques for studying community problems.

The senior and junior club officers and members enrolled in the workshop have undergone this same schooling for the past four months under the practiced eye of Miss Rose Cologne, community adult education specialist of The Pennsylvania State College, who has represented the college's extension services in this project. Miss Cologne has met with the women twice monthly to discuss their projects, and to outline the procedures by which they might achieve their objectives.

Last of eight meetings was held May 24 at the New Century Guild, Philadelphia, where the club women heard Mrs. Bonaro Overstreet, nationally known poet, author and psychologist, comment them at their next-to-last meeting for their "generosity and courage in undertaking a vital and much-needed work at the most critical period in our history."

Of the several projects already established or soon to be organized, at least three are closely allied to the war effort. Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, Narberth, has organized a Gee Whiz Club (girls whose husbands are in service) for the purpose of bringing together every Monday evening the women and children of men overseas. Mrs. William Leis-man, Ardmore, has interested her committee in a Community Club for Service Men.

Still another project has as its objective the organization of a service club for convalescent soldiers, while another is seeking a recreation center for teen-age boys and girls. One woman has chosen as her project the organization and development of a Community Round Table, where all suggestions for improving the community will originate and thereafter be advanced through existing agencies, or agencies created by the Round Table for this specific purpose.

Mrs. Pollock, in outlining the progress of the workshop, emphasized that the idea of the women is not to reform a community, but through a democratic procedure, to sponsor surveys and otherwise to determine the need within a community for a certain service. Mrs. Pollock was high in her praise of the women participating in this experiment, pointing out that attendance throughout the months has been "practically perfect."

"From the viewpoint of stretching imaginations and making the participants think and act," Mrs. Pollock observed, "it is truly a workshop. From the community angle," she added, "it will work many lasting improvements since the ultimate goal is to have in every community a Community Council or Round Table, around which will sit representatives from all local organizations—this Council or Round Table to serve as a clearing house for all ideas and projects relating to the community."

Staff Sergeant John H. Miller, 626 San Marino Ave., Bryn Mawr, an aerial engineer and electrical specialist in the Air Corps, added a brief appeal for bond buying at the Saturday night session.

Auctioneer James A. Hall, of Keene, N. H., kept things going at a lively pace and amused the audience with his comments and remarks.

Mrs. Francis Small headed the Emergency Aid committee sponsoring the affair while the War Stamp Exchange group was directed by Mrs. Lois Umbsen, of Narberth.

Auction Yields $70,000 Bonds

as Corporal Black put it, "just as though they had meat on the table." He conceived the idea of capturing the lot but as he talked their smile disappeared and he grabbed his automatic and opened up. "The awful part of it was that a couple of them fell in the stream and polluted the water," Black said. The Marine weighed 192 when he went out and 146 when he came home, wounded.

"Bonds keep us supplied with weapons. Keep plugging because those kids don't stop or quit," he declared.

One of the choice items on sale, a four-piece silver tea set, made in 1864 and sold then to raise funds to care for Civil War wounded, went under the gavel for $100 with 10 persons contributing $10 apiece. The set will be presented to the Government's new Valley Forge Hospital near Phoenixville and the $100 in bonds were presented to Corporal Black.

Use Proper Postage, Urges Postmaster

Joseph A. Barnes, acting postmaster at Ardmore, asks that the public make sure, when mailing to members of the armed forces, that the correct amount of postage is placed on the envelope and that the mail is properly addressed.

Failure to do so, says the postmaster, creates a delay in dispatching mail to the men in service, which can easily be avoided.

works—and the way America works. That's one thing we're all fighting for—the right to live our own lives—the opportunity to work, save and get ahead. That system made America strong. It encouraged invention and research. It built the big industries that are arming the United Nations for victory. It created the electric companies under business management that power most of America's war plants and produce far more electricity than any nation has ever known before!
